About Disability Pride Month

Celebrated every July, Disability Pride Month is for anyone who is disabled – or anyone who wishes to show their allyship by celebrating their disabled colleagues, peers, friends, and family.

Having a dedicated month provides a focal point. It's a time for embracing disability identity positively. And challenging the negative attitudes that are a barrier for disabled people.

There are 16 million people in the UK. It's time for their voices to be heard.

With your help, Scope can continue working to create a fairer society. However you choose to fundraise this Disability Pride Month, every pound will make a huge difference. Thank you!

Show your rainbow

This July, turn your office or home into a rainbow to celebrate Disability Pride Month and show your support for disabled people. To visually represent the Disability Pride Month flag, you could:

Decorate your space with coloured decorations, pick a featured colour and build your outfit around it, or get creative by baking or eating something rainbow themed!

Encourage colleagues to donate a sum of their choice to raise money and awareness at the same time!

Move to support

Take on 16K of movement to honour the 16 million disabled people in the UK and show your support! Move in whatever way suits you! As you clock up your kilometres, rally support from friends, family, and colleagues to fuel your journey. Every pound you raise helps Scope continue delivering vital programmes and services. Ready to move with pride? Let's make every kilometre count!

Portrait of a Nation

Does your team have untapped creative passion?

This Disability Pride Month we're asking organisations to encourage their teams to submit a self-portrait in any format, from photography, painting, digital art, video, poetry or audio to raise funds for Scope. Pay an entry fee to enter your submission, and host your own internal exhibition!
